THE DESIGN

The design of the class comes from a multitude of field experience from those that have done the real thing for years. It is important that a large focus is on the real and actual do's and don't's to help your success in the real world! It is full of energy, fun but also about accomplishing the importance of the application techniques and product quality. We ask that you jump in and feel the products for your selves to really understand the application processes. It is a full field day, so be prepared to bring note pads and some clothes you don't mind getting dirty in!
